About Yokohama International Youth Photo Project

This project will make international communities more visible through the eyes of international youths, and open dialogue to what makes a real international city. We will exhibit the work of young photographers at Zou-no-hana Terrace and other venues from January, 2021!

The instructor, Nobuko Oyabu, is a photojournalist who worked at several newspapers in American Midwest.

No camera? No problem! We have cameras to rent.

We can also help pay your train/bus fares to come to workshops to the students in need. We are looking forward to meeting young photographers to help us make the city greater!
